Preface

The Namibia Consumer Price Index (NCPI) encompasses all the expenditures on goods and services that Namibian private households make. It is compiled by comparing the prices of the goods and services of the month under review with the price of those goods and services in December 2012. More than 9000 prices of goods and services are collected on a monthly basis from more than 900 retail outlets in 8 localities.

The item indices are calculated as unweighted geometric averages of price ratios while the higher-level indices are calculated as weighted arithmetic averages of the item indices by using chained Laspeyres index number formulae. The NCPI weights represent the expenditure share of each commodity in the 2009/10 Namibia Household Income and Expenditure Survey. The Consumer Price Index is published about 15 days after the end of the reference month to which it relates.

The NCPI is used as the basis to calculate the rate of inflation as experienced by households in their role as consumers. The inflation rate measures the change in the NCPI of the month under review to the previous month (month-on-month change) as well as to the same month in the previous year (year-on-year change). The NCPI and the inflation rates are vital for purposes of economic policy-making, especially the conduct of monetary policy.

The inflation rate is used in a wide variety of public and private contracts for the purpose of adjusting payments (such as wages, rents, interest and social security benefits). It therefore, has substantial and wide-ranging financial implications for governments and businesses, as well as for households.
